LONDON, Dec. 5.—Winston Churchill, minister of munitions, speaking at Dundee, declared that Great Britain is determined to maintain its supremacy.

"We shall enter the peace conference with the absolute determination that no limitation shall be imposed on our right to maintain naval defense," he said.

"No matter what appeals are addressed to us, we will not intend to let ourselves in any way to restrictions which will prevent the navy from maintaining its well-deserved superiority on the seas."

NATIONALIZATION OF RAILWAYS DECIDED ON

In regard to internal affairs, Churchill said:

"The government has decided upon nationalization of the railways, but has not yet decided regarding nationalization of shipping, which is a complex question."

The British naval authorities have decided that it will be unnecessary to demand the return of Heligoland to Great Britain from Germany.

PARIS, Dec. 5 (Havas)—There is complete agreement between the allies on all questions, particularly that concerning the former German Emperor, declared Premier Clemenceau on his return from London last night. He expressed deep satisfaction over the important results obtained at the conference.

WORK OF NAVY IS PRAISED BY GEDDES

LONDON, Dec. 5.—The work of the British navy during the war was lauded by Sir Eric Geddes, first lord of the admiralty, in his address opening the "sea power exhibition" of pictures and relics in London.

The power of the British navy from the very outbreak of the war, he declared, held all the fleets of the world in a silent grip, crushed the life out of the enemy countries, and assured the freedom of the world by its efforts.

Sir Eric pointed out that it was the assistance of the navy which had enabled our coal and munitions to be sent to Italy and France, while Great Britain's own munitions for the western front had been carried on the back of the navy. It was the navy which had enabled the British expeditionary force to be conveyed to France in which operation more than 1,000,000 men had been conveyed with a total loss from all causes of less than 5,000 men.

It was the navy, he continued, which enabled the operations to be carried on in Mesopotamia, Macedonia and Palestine and which had brought about a condition of things which resulted in the creation of the British Empire, while behind the navy was the blockade, which crushed the life out of the Central powers and made them sue for peace.

From 1914 to 1917, Sir Eric stated, the tenth cruiser squadron had kept under gun a stretch of sea 3000 miles long, from the Suez Canal to India, and had intercepted 5,000 ships taking supplies to enemy countries. Although this work had been accomplished for the most part in the dead of night or in bad light, amid tempests and blizzards, less than 4 per cent of vessels succeeded in passing the lines of the blockade!

LONDON, Dec. 5.—There will be no formal surrender of German armament, as was at one time expected, because it has been found impracticable to assemble 2000 aeroplanes at one place and it is doubtful whether Germany has a sufficient number of reliable pilots for that purpose. Hence the first surrender in history of a war fleet is being effected piecemeal.

The communication was then filed. Others named for the appointment.

Ex-Kaiser Admits Transvaal Plot Reveals Design on British Africa Kruger Telegram Under Pressure

AMSTERDAM, Dec. 5.—(Via Wireless from London).—In response to a telegram, the former kaiser's personal physician arrived at Amerongen Castle from Germany today on a special train.

AMERONGEN, Holland, Tuesday, Dec. 3.—(By the Associated Press).—"I am a private citizen and while in Holland will not make any statement whatever for publication." This was the former emperor's message to the Associated Press correspondent when he called at Count Von Bentinck's castle again today.

The German general, acting as orderly, formerly governor of Metz, brought the message direct from William Hohenzollern, who last evening was inclined to make a public declaration, but today changed his mind. The message continued:

"You must fully realize my position. I am threatened on all sides with criminal charges, which, if brought, I must face. Therefore, I must reserve any statement until charges are actually brought."

"Also, I owe a certain loyalty to the present German government and cannot make a declaration which might compromise others."

The correspondent requested the general to ask the former emperor whether he would confirm the crown prince's assertion regarding the Kruger telegram and the general brought back the answer: "The crown prince is absolutely correct in the facts." The telegram, already written, was laid before me for signature."

REPLIED TO SIGN
FOR THREE DAYS

"It refused to sign it for three days; but finally did so under pressure of the German diplomats and my political advisers, who advanced many reasons for sending the despatch. Of course, having signed it, I take full responsibility."

The former emperor and empress are staying at a quiet life. Their table is the simplest. In fact, they have submitted to the simple diet, giving them to be rationed for bread and butter and other edibles just as the ordinary countryfolk. Occasionally they walk in the surrounding woods, but recent days have been so wet that it has been almost impossible for them to go out except for a carriage ride.

The "Kruger telegram" referred to by the former emperor was sent by him to "Oom Paul" Kruger, president of the Transvaal republic on January 3, 1896. It was the outcome of German "filtrations" with the Transvaal republic, during which the intentions of Germany toward British influence in South Africa became known.

REPLIED TO SIGN
FOR THREE DAYS

"It refused to sign it for three days; but finally did so under pressure of the German diplomats and my political advisers, who advanced many reasons for sending the despatch. Of course, having signed it, I take full responsibility."

The historic "Jameson raid" was made late in the same year and on January 2, 1896, Jameson found himself surrounded by Boers at Doornkop and surrendered.

Up to last July 1, Department of Justice investigators had rounded up 23,433 draft evaders, causing their induction into the service. More than 230,000 cases of men who had failed to file questionnaires or appear for physical examination were investigated.

The following is the committee named today:

REORGANIZED
OFFICIAL PLAN

The name of Fred La Ballister, Oakland realty man and industrial expert, today brought into the list of possibilities for the city auditorship, to succeed H. H. Clay. La Ballister, it was said in inner circles of the city council today, has been assured of three votes, which would insure his appointment.

According to discussion among council members the decision rests with Commissioner F. F. Morse, who, when he took the place of Commissioner E. F. Jackson in the safety department, retained the Jackson position.

It is rumored about the city hall that this insures Jackson voting with him in the present issue. His vote has also retained City Clerk L. W. Cummings in his office, when Cummings was under fire, with the result that Commissioner W. H. Edwards is expected to side with him. This gives Morse practical control of the city, according to other councilmen.

It is also said that Morse has expressed preference for La Ballister.

CLAY WOULD LIKE
CHANGE MADE SOON.

Mayor Davie today said that he had no idea who the controlling faction would choose. "They don't consult me and my vote amounts to nothing with them," said the city's executive.

The city auditor Clay stated today that he was ready to resign the city office as soon as the city council was prepared to release him. He expressed the hope that his successor could be named soon.

Reorganization of the market and food inspection system was also discussed at night. Commissions made by commission and market men regarding inspections were gone at length.

"There will certainly be a readjustment of this department," said Morse today. "This, too, Dr. Crosby will suggest the details of this."

"The new municipal laboratory," said Morse, "is planned to be the finest and most complete on the coast and here all city work will be done. A corps of experts will be obtained."

Commissioner Jackson probably has his man named by this time, said the Mayor.

"Well, I am ready to cast my vote for a man right now," replied Edwards, "but if the council is not ready that suits me fine."

The communication was then filed. Others named for the appointment.

Attorney General Gregory Tells How U. S. Agents Prevented Disloyalty and Run Down Espionage Offenders

BY ASSOCIATED PRESS
LEASED WIRE TO TRIBUNE.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 5.—The story of how enemy agents have been caught, disloyalty suppressed, draft slackers apprehended, dangerous Germans interned, explosions and other sabotage prevented, was given to the public today in Attorney General Gregory's annual report.

Referring to enforcement of the espionage act, Gregory said:

"This department has proceeded upon the general principle that the constitutional right of free speech, free assembly and petition exist in time of peace as in time of war, and that the right of dissidence of governmental policy and the right of political agitation are the most fundamental rights in democracy."

24,439 DRAFT EVADERS CAUGHT.

The Attorney-General disclosed that only 6000 enemy aliens have been arrested on presidential warrants and examined with view to interment and that a considerable number of these have been placed in permanent camps administered by the army and marine bureaus.

"This hall," said the mayor, would furnish a permanent headquarters for the Red Cross and would also be place of meeting for the veterans and their wives.

"While I am certain that some memorial should be erected to forever green the memory of our gallant soldiers of world freedom, I am also of the opinion that we cannot do too much to show our appreciation of the Red Cross and the splendid service it has rendered, not only the nation, but also our own city. Let this work be taken up with vigor and pushed to a conclusion at once."

The following is the committee named today:

HINTS OF OUR ESPIONAGE SYSTEM.

The Presidential party dined quietly in the evening, being served by a waiter who claimed to have attended Emperor William and the empress in the same suite on the trip of the steamer "George Washington."

In the afternoon, on the advice of his physician, Rear-Admiral Cary T. Grayson, he lay down and rested for a time because of a slight cold that was affecting his voice.

Later the President received calls from officials abroad, including the Italian and Spanish ambassadors. Following this he took a walk on deck with Mrs. Wilson.

Glass will go into office on December 15, under an agreement with Secretary McAdoo, whose resignation was accepted by the President to take effect upon the appointment and qualification of his successor.

ANDRE MESSAGER, conductor of La Societe des Concerts du Conservatoire, which plays tonight at Ye Liberty Playhouse.

George Neil Gillespie, 2200 Bancroft way, Berkeley, was arrested at his home this morning by Deputy United States Marshal Frank Ralph on a charge of looting express packages of contents valued at several thousand dollars while employed as a Wells Fargo expressman. Gillespie was arraigned before United States Commissioner Francis Krull and his bail fixed at $2000.

The government agents charge that Gillespie is also involved in a bootlegging ring which shipped large quantities of whisky as baggage on the Overland Limited to Ogden, Utah. Three railroad employees have already pleaded guilty. The others involved include John H. Browning, wealthy Utah real estate man and son of the inventor of the Browning gun, and J. A. De Vine, president of the Amalgamated Sugar Company of Salt Lake City, who are to be brought here for trial following the conclusion of removal proceedings.

The specific charge in the express company case, and for which he was arrested, is that he and his co-conspirators, in the theft of $4,000 in gold in an express package consigned to Philadelphia. He will be transferred to Reno, Nevada, for trial. There the offense was alleged to have been committed. His mother was in court and gave bail for his appearance.

VETERANS ARE TO CONDUCT SERVICE

Federal services for Major Henry B. Orwig will be held Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock at 532 Thirteenth-street under the auspices of E. H. Liscum Camp, Spanish War Veterans, of which he was the commanding officer.

Major Orwig has been confined to his home, 5328 Broadway, for more than six months and his death was not unexpected. He was a native of Michigan and was 54 years old. He had been a resident of Oakland for ten years. He was manager of the North American Hospital Association in 1914. He was attached to the 20th Kansas Infantry, served under General Funston in the Philippines. His name frequently appeared in Funston's memoirs.

The family is awaiting the arrival of a son, Eugene Robert Orwig, who is attached to the 13th Division, 37th Battalion, Field Artillery at Camp Lewis.

Surviving besides the son mentioned are the widow, Mrs. William Orwig; a son, Raymond L. Orwig; and a daughter, Ethel Agnes Orwig.

AIR ANTICS OVER WILSON ARE COSTLY

NEW YORK, Dec. 5.—For one "zoom," two tall spins and many other antics in the air above President Wilson's head, as he stood on the "George Washington yesterday, Lieutenant Fred Kelly, the crack hurdler from the Pacific coast, today has been ordered to remain two weeks on post at the Hazelhurst, L. L. camp.

Lieutenant L. F. Pritchard, who was in the airplane with Kelly, was in the center, disclosed the "hard luck" of the pilot. He himself has been ordered to appear before his commanding officer in two weeks.

The Kelly machine circled about the President's ship and cavorted in the air, much to the amusement of everybody, especially the two flyers. The disillusionment came when they returned to the aviation field, Pritchard said.

Miss Helen S. Keller, the noted blind war worker whose name has been frequently linked with that of Florence Nightingale for her achievements among suffering soldiers is stopping at the Hotel Oakland on her way back to her New York home.

Miss Keller arrived from Los Angeles this morning. She has been working on a moving picture of her life.

Accompanying Miss Keller is Miss Polly Thompson who has been a constant companion of the gifted blind woman for the last ten years and who has entered greatly into the work of Miss Keller, and also Mrs. J. A. Macey, a New York friend.

Miss Keller is very enthusiastic about California and says she is thinking seriously of giving up her beautiful Riverside Drive home in New York and residing permanently in California. She expects to leave for New York within a few days.

"CUT IT OUT," SAYS SOLDIER; TUMULTY DOES

NEW YORK, Dec. 5.—"Cut that out," barked a soldier on Pier 4 in Hoboken yesterday morning, as Joseph P. Tumulty, secretary to the President, stepped down the gangplank of the George Washington, puffing cigar.

"Oh, very well," said Tumulty, but the soldier was not satisfied.

"Throw it in the river," he insisted.

Tumulty did that, too, with a sigh.

"I knew I'd get into trouble," he said to a friend standing near by.

"I told the President I would never fall. But, just the same, I don't like that soldier. I'm against militarism."

Mooney Action to Await Labor Rally

SEATTLE, Dec. 5.—Pending action of a labor congress in Chicago, January 14, no strike will be called on behalf of Thomas J. Mooney by the Seattle Central Labor Council. Resolutions to this effect were adopted last evening.

GROUNDS AT AUDITORIUM ARE SINKING

The Auditorium grounds, made of dredged material from lake and estuary, are sinking at a rate of from one-third and a half feet a year, and it will probably be impossible for years to plant them with shrubbery or lawns. This was the report made before the park board by Superintendent of Parks Lee Kertfoot. The planting of the grounds, however, some months ago, has not been attempted, nor will it be until the "made land" shows some signs of permanent settling.

The sinking of the land is also affecting the sidewalks on Twelfth street, which will probably have to be renewed in a short time, according to the park superintendent's report.

The Auditorium building itself, the foundations of which are on piling that extend deep into the earth and reach hardpan, has so far, however, shown no signs of a bad settling.

Further construction on the Edoff memorial bandstand was postponed by order of the board, and we report of Reed and Corlett, the architects for the structure, who hold that in a year or so stone and other materials to be used will have regained normal prices. The present price of such material is extremely high, because of war conditions, and, according to the architects and the city, by waiting, will save several thousand dollars. The temporary wooden bandstand will continue to be used for concerts at Lakeside park.

"Offer of the Land Show directors to sell to the park board for $100 the land used in the construction of the stadium of the recent show was refused by the board. The stadium, a temporary wood affair, on settling ground, was held by the park directors to be already useless, and the park department has no use for the lumber. Instructions were issued to the Land Show management to remove the old pile of material that lay in on the Auditorium grounds since the show has been closed.

The shrubbery at Perkins street and Grand avenue, held to be dangerous to autoists in that it interferes with a view of machines approaching from the corner, was ordered cut down at the meeting yesterday afternoon.

RESCUED YOUTH GIVES NO CLEW

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 5.—Whether George Griffin Jr., of Atlanta, Georgia, now in this city, was the victim of some one who knew that he had received $400,000 in a recent lottery in Georgia, or whether his mind temporarily gave way under the strain of his studies, are questions the police are attempting to solve.

Young Griffin was mysteriously shot and as mysteriously rescued from the waters of the bay at Hunters Point, into which he had either fallen or was thrown. The first person to see him after the affair were a couple who live near the point, to whom he applied for room. He carried his coat and vest, which were water-soaked, and his shirt, which was wet and clung to his body, was red with blood.

The young man was evasive as to what had happened to him, and the people with whom he sought refuge summoned an ambulance which took him to the Recieving Hospital.

When questioned by the police, he was uncommunicative.

"I might have shot myself and fallen into the water," he finally said.

Widow Is Seeking for Bank Account

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 5.—A systematic search of the banks of this city and San Francisco was started by Attorney J. C. Black today in an attempt to discover a $10,000 account which was supposed to have been left by Harry Bothens of this county, who died recently. The search is being made at the request of his widow.

Harry Bothens died several months ago, leaving a widow by a second marriage. His first wife was divorced. He came to the United States from Europe a number of years ago, and it is understood that he has at various times received sums of money from his home.

P. B. Cross, sued Mrs. George Cross for divorce, has been ordered to come before Judge W. S. Weis Friday and present a list of his property. The order was made at the same time with a restraining order preventing him from in any manner disposing of his property pending the divorce action.

The complaint for divorce alleges that Cross, who has a net worth of $200,000 in full as her interest in their community property, and that he deceived her as to the community values. She claims community property of a value of $70,000. The complaint accuses Cross of adultery.

Misrepresentation Is Charged in Lawsuit

Misrepresentation as to the ownership of a half interest in a machine shop is alleged against William Dalziel in a suit for $1,000 against him by Gale Smith. It is alleged that Dalziel, of the Dalziel building, claimed to own a half interest and sold it to Smith, when he could not deliver title.

Dalziel was sued last week by Smith and George Duke for $13,000. The complaint alleges violation of a contract to deliver a specified number of castings for the making of lathes. A. A. Montague is attorney for the plaintiff in bot hauls.

Attorney Montague, Dalziel and Duke are all defendants in the suit of Malcolm McGowen to recover $2,700 collected on a note owing to McGowen. The testimony is that McGowen gave the note to Montague for collection and that he endorsed it to Duke and Dalziel, agreeing to give them two-thirds of the proceeds.

CHARITY NOT INTENDED TO BE GIVEN HUN

"Are we going to feed the Germans with food conserved in this country?" asked Ralph P. Merritt, food administrator for this state, speaking yesterday before the Alameda county woman's committee of the Councils for National and State Defense.

"No," cried one of the women amid applause that nearly drowned a "Yea" voiced by another woman present.

"You are right," said Merritt, nodding toward his listener who had said "no."

The applause was redoubled.

The speakers present, representing many organizations which have taken an active part in war work, pledged themselves to follow and to work in behalf of any instructions Food Administrator Herbert Hoover may give, even if his requests for food conservation should follow the dissolution of the food administration.

Merritt praised the American women for their patriotic efforts in saving food.

FOOD AVERTS CRISIS

As a result of the cupful of flour saved throughout the land, he said, three crises were averted during the closing months of the war, when one of the crises had already developed had it not been for food saved from America. In paying a special tribute to California women for their conservation work, Merritt said that it was not generally known that California leads in producing and shipping food to the allies.

"Food restrictions are being released," said Merritt, "because of the allies now being able to ship foodstuffs which had been stored over a period of years due to a lack of tonnage. Australia's when crop stored for the last three years is now available, and Java's three-year sugar crop being put on the market. This latter fact made possible the removal of sugar restrictions in America, as the allies have declared that they will not need the portion of the Cuban sugar crop allotted to them."

ECONOMY NECESSARY

Despite this better outlook on the food situation, Merritt warned his auditors that food was scarce and the strict economy must continue.

"France, England and Italy were promised 17,500,000 tons of food some time ago, but instead of transporting it here, the Germans have quickly developed in the allied lines which called for prompt use of the four American divisions that were at that time 'equal to any demands of battle action.'

The first crisis of the German drive was held in Picardy. Pershing's departure for France to pave the way for the army that was to smash German resistance on the Meuse and give vital aid to the allies in forcing Germany to its knees nine months later. Its striking features is the action taken by the German thrust across the Aisne toward Paris, of which Pershing says:

"The allies faced a crisis equally as grave as that of the Picardy offensive in March."

General Pershing views the encounters before March 21 of this year in which American troops participated as a part of their training and discipline. Ultimately, on that date, however, the greater German drive was launched and a crucial situation quickly developed in the allied lines which called for prompt use of the four American divisions that were at that time 'equal to any demands of battle action.'

Pershing's departure for France to pave the way for the army that was to smash German resistance on the Meuse and give vital aid to the allies in forcing Germany to its knees nine months later. Ex-Oakland Bellboy Given 7 Months' Time

SAN FRANCISCO, December 5.—

John Burton, at one time bellboy in prominent Oakland hotel and the son of a large hotelkeeper, was sentenced to seven months in the county jail by Federal Judge M. T. Dooling this morning on a plea of guilty to directing a member of the armed forces of the United States to a disorderly house, in violation of the law zone in the social evil proclamation. Burton was at the time of his arrest on probation from a three year sentence in San Quentin for grand larceny.

In answer to his own question concerning feeding the Germans, Merritt said:

"First we must feed where we have promised—England, France and Italy. Then the smaller allies must be taken care of and then the neutrals."

It is proposed to allow Germany to buy with its own money food to be distributed under the direction of the allies. Most of this food will be purchased from the Argentine. Germany will not be starved, but it will not be fed by the charity or philanthropy of this country."

SAYS HOT WATER WASHES POISONS FROM THE LIVER

Everyone should drink hot water with phosphate in it, before breakfast.

To feel as fine as the proverbial fiddle, we must keep the liver washed at least once every morning, to prevent its sluggish pores from clogging with indigestible material, soluble and poisonous toxins, says a noted physician.

If you get headaches, it's your liver. If you catch cold easily, it's your liver. If you wake up with a bad taste, furred tongue, nasty breath, stomach trouble, it's your liver. It's your liver. Sallow skin, muddy complexion, watery eyes all denote liver uncleanness. Your liver is the most important, also the most abused and neglected organ of the body. Few know its function or how to relieve the dismended-up body waste of all toxins.

Every man and woman, sick or well, should drink each morning before breakfast, a glass of hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it, to wash from the liver and bowels the previous day's undigested poisons, the bad poisons, bile and toxins; thus cleaning, sweetening and freshening the entire alimentary canal before putting more food into the stomach.

Limestone phosphate is inexpensive; any pharmacist will sell you a quarter pound which is sufficient for a morning dose of hot water and limestone phosphate cleans, stimulates and refreshes the liver, keeping you feeling fit day in and day out.—Advertisement.

SHIFTING THE BLAME.

Secretary Baker and other officials of the War Department on duty in the mahogany arm chairs at Washington showed a disposition in testifying before the Senate to place upon General Pershing the responsibility for delay in giving out the names of those killed and wounded in the fighting in France.

It would be a mistake on the part of the country if it accepted the weak-kneed intimations of the Washington officials in this matter. General Pershing has unquestionably done the very best he could with the facilities at his disposal. In the first place he has insisted upon careful compilation of the records of casualties. In the second place the cables were not adequate to send over all the names as quickly as they were known; other business of greater importance had to be transacted by cable and telegraph.

It may as well be acknowledged first as last that publishing the names of casualties was not the most important work devolving upon Pershing and his staff. Two tasks at least properly took precedence; one to beat the Hun and the other to extend all possible aid to those injured in battle, that their lives might be saved if possible. General Pershing was ordered by Washington, and in good judgment, to cable only the names of the killed and seriously wounded. The names of those only slightly wounded were to be sent by mail.

The spectacle of the Secretary of War testifying before Congress that he had frequently urged General Pershing to expedite the sending of the casualty lists is not at all inspiring. Had Mr. Baker desired the names more rapidly than he got them his wish would have been gratified, for he possessed the power and unlimited facilities to enforce compliance with his wish.

And after all is said, the country has not suffered by delay in publication of the casualty lists. Many a relative has been saved heartache by not being prematurely notified that a soldier was missing or made prisoner when he had been only temporarily lost and who rejoined his command a few days after battle. There has been so much physical suffering and death that it seems a petty thing to display and dilate upon simple distress of the emotions. Yet this is the small work that Congress assumed when it started the investigation of the casualty lists.

NO CAUSE FOR FEAR.

Representatives of the southern Slavic peoples of what was formerly the Austro-Hungarian empire who have held mass meetings in Oakland and San Francisco and petitioned the President of the United States to protect their interests against unjust encroachment have been moved by fears which likely will prove unfounded. This is a point which the southern Slavs in this country should examine closely. Germany would rejoice greatly at the spectacle of dissension among the various units of Jugoslavia and Italy and it may be taken for granted that German propagandists will do everything possible to promote disagreement.

So far as the official record is to be taken as a guide, there is no disharmony of any consequence among the representatives of the Italo-Slavic populations of the Balkans and Adriatic coast. The movement for a coalition of the Jugoslavs is progressing nicely. At the conference of Agram recently representatives of Croatia, Slovenia and Dalmatia cordially expressed their endorsement of Serbian leadership in the proposed southern Slavic union. Since then the king of Montenegro has been deposed and the Montenegrin peoples' representatives have indicated their desire to join the union.

There will be abundant seacoast facilities for the peoples who comprise the new Jugoslavia. They will certainly control the Adriatic from and including Fiume to Cattaro. In this stretch of coast are ample harbors for the accommodation of their foreign commerce. If more is needed, Italy will be induced, without difficulty, to devote a portion of the Albanian coast.

President Wilson already has spoken on this subject. He has included in one of his fourteen peace terms the demand that the democratic peoples of the Balkans be assured an outlet to the sea. Inasmuch as none of the Allies dispute the justice of this demand or fail to recognize the value to future tranquility of adequate and equitable facilities for the normal processes of these peoples, there will be little difficulty in realizing it. No responsible representative of the Slav countries anticipate trouble.

Some criticism of the procedure and the final settlement is unavoidable. But it will come from the politicians who were as well satisfied with Hapsburg domination as they will be under a regime of independent self-government. It is to be expected that the Germans and Magyars will make use of this element to stir up trouble. The way to aid in the solution of the Balkan problem is not to indulge in thoughtless accusations against friends and allies. That is the way to aid the purposes of the enemy. Surely the Jugoslavs have not forgotten the lesson of the Balkan war of 1913.

EXPLANATION OUT OF DATE.

The diplomatic machinery of Holland is functioning behind time in its promulgations of the statement of the president of the Dutch Council of Ministers regarding the hospitable refuge extended by Holland to Kaiser Wilhelm of Germany.

This statement, given out for publication by Consul General von Coenen Torchiana of San Francisco, asserts that Wilhelm fled into Holland as a private citizen.

According to the official announcement of the German government, the kaiser did not sign his notice of abdication until November 28. He entered Holland, where he found a cordial reception, more than two weeks earlier. We must accept the German statement in this matter in preference to that of Holland. If the kaiser has abdicated at all the act was not completed earlier than stated by the German propaganda bureau. If Berlin could have fixed an earlier date without being caught in a lie it would have done so. As it is, with the Hohenzollern signature affixed to the document of abdication on November 28, the government of Prince Maximilian of Baden is convicted of falsehood.

Holland undertakes a doubtful adventure when she tries to explain any acts of Germany. It is almost certain to resolve into painful embarrassment. The Dutch consul at Denver resigned rather than put out this statement of his legation at Washington.

A BLOW AT THE COMBINATION.

Whether the decision of Superior Judge Wood of Amador county, sitting in an Alameda court, holding illegal the contract of the Poultry Producers Association with an individual poultry raiser, will stand the test of appeal to a higher tribunal cannot now be known. But that it is pleasing to the great mass of consumers and to a large percentage of the poultry and egg producers is certain.

Judge Wood's decision is based on the fact that the contract is not definite in its provisions. But if it will have the effect of curbing the power of this combination that is responsible for eggs at a dollar a dozen it is just as welcome as if it was the audacious attempt at monopoly of the combination.

Since it was organized, with the generous counsel of Colonel Harris Weinstock over a year ago, the Poultry Producers' Association has dominated the wholesale and retail market. It has used the power of its options on eggs and poultry on the farms to dictate the price the dealers shall charge the consumer. It has not concerned itself with cost of production and distribution in arriving at a retail price, but has considered first the available supply and existing demand. Regulating the supply it has been able to charge whatever it desired. When victims of influenza required eggs with which to fight off death they were made to pay an extortionate price. Even the specious pleadings of Food Controller Ralph Merritt do not give this combination a clean bill.

Judge Wood's decision is a ray of hope for the consumer. It may mean that the public will not in the future be wholly at the mercy of Colonel Weinstock's profit-taking combinations.

The final count of votes cast at the November election show that ten of the constitutional amendments on the ballot carried. These are the provisions referring to deposit of public money, the usury law, the enabling act for consolidated county and city governments, Los Angeles county funds, the University of California, Appellate Court divisions, methods of changing borough governments, condemnation of land for public right of way, City of Venice Indebtedness and the amendment to the Workmen's Compensation act. The decision of the voters on these amendments coincide with the recommendations of THE TRIBUNE published prior to the election. On one proposition only did the verdict of the electors differ from the recommendation of THE TRIBUNE; that was the proposition to create a State budget board.

Immediately the armistice had been signed, Dr. Solf, German foreign minister, issued a statement that the people needed immediate food relief and that the terms of the armistice must be relaxed or terrible suffering would ensue. The German method of putting out the distress signal the minute things begin to go against them was well illustrated in this; for it is now stated, in what appears to be a reliable despatch from Zurich, that Germany has food to last till April if the army reserve stores are placed at the disposal of the people. Since October, it is declared, these have not been touched. Such disclosures as these will incline the American people to stipulate that their Hooverizing shall not go to the benefit of those who are really able to look out for themselves—rather to the victims of such people.

There will be abundant seacoast facilities for the peoples who comprise the new Jugoslavia. They will certainly control the Adriatic from and including Fiume to Cattaro. In this stretch of coast are ample harbors for the accommodation of their foreign commerce. If more is needed, Italy will be induced, without difficulty, to devote a portion of the Albanian coast.

NOTES and COMMENT

The one-time kaiser says he has lots of friends in America. If he has it is a safe bet that they are hoping that he will not point them out.

It is announced in the news that no move has yet been made to reopen the Tijuana race track. May be taken as an indication that in Mexico the war is not considered over.

Belgium's loss due to Hun destruction, robberies, thefts and general outlawry, is estimated at $1,200,112,000. It must be a rough estimate, and the Huns are getting off easy if that is all they will have to pay to require that outraged country.

Whether Sousa's new wedding march will accelerate things or not is uncertain. They were moving along with Mendelssohn's aid with reasonable speed, but in this day the "Made in America" sign is fashionable.

Fresno adopted a charter all right and forwarded it to Sacramento for the final hall mark, when it was found to be shy of a simple and necessary provision for its effectiveness, and as it would be of no avail to endorse it without this, the document will be withdrawn. It will take only a few minutes to fix it, but it will require another election and consume two years more time to get it into operation.

News is vouchsafed that the Germans have burned all records and papers that might place the responsibility of the war upon them. Such documents are not important. But any which give particulars of the extent of their depredations and general brutalities are in point, though even as to that, there are other ponderous piles of evidence.

We might as well stop a moment and see who's here. Why, if it isn't Aguinaldo! Though it is the younger edition, he brings news that the original is thinking of running for the presidency of the new Philippine republic. And that sure is news.

This war has apparently brought Japan and the United States closer together; at least, they have more dealings with one another, for Japan is now clamoring for another cable connection. This may be considered one of the beneficent commercial results.

The ease with which fakers find guile is one of the strangest phenomena of life. A person cannot take up a cult or make a pretense of any kind so absurd as to serve as a warning in itself. If he is suave and plausible he readily finds victims. The fact that it is done over and over again seems to make no difference.

The former crown prince is still able to get his name in print. He declares that he has not renounced his right to the throne of Germany. This is not really important. Such things are not considered as they once were, though there is probably no use in calling the crown prince's attention to the fact.

The former crown prince is still undecided on punishment for Wilhelm. If it will just possess its patience it will not have to decide. England and France are in a way to perform that mental feat for them.

In the ultimatum of the allies as to those 5000 locomotives to be delivered by the Germans in accordance with the armistice, it is seen how disadvantageous it is to lack a reputation, or rather, to have a bad one. Perhaps Erzberger speaks the truth when he says the delivery is impossible within the time stipulated, but no Hun representation is accepted, and they are ordered to come through or take the consequences.

Conditions are favorable for generally fair weather in southern California, rain in northern California and west of Cascade mountains, with rain or snow over the eastern portion of the district.

She's bewitchingly pretty—but don't smile, or you'll be pinched! That's what she's there for, and that's why Chief of Police J. H. Nedderman, chief noisemaker of beauty, has just appointed a new "bold bandit" to the job. No, not the chief and Captain of Inspectors Drew know who she is—and they won't tell. But she's out looking for mashers, just the same.

Today she has one victim—who not only "mashed" her, but then told her she was one of a pair of bold bandits girls could find for the job. No, not

Walter Cummins, bandit, had fled from Texas, where there was a reward for them.

Cummins, in the meantime, had been arrested on a Telegraph car for fighting with the conductor and was booked for battery.

Anyhow, whether the wires to Texas bear out the bandit story or not,

Walters will be held as a "masher."

WASHINGTON, Dec. 5.—The Senate foreign relations committee today killed the Cummins resolution for a Senatorial committee of eight to attend the peace conference.

The vote against the resolution was unanimous. Different members voted against it for different motives, Chairman Hitchcock said. Some believed that appointment of such a committee would be undignified, others that it would embolden the American peace commissioners; that it would detract from the influence of the President and that the Sen-

PARADE WILL BE FEATURE OF BRITAIN DAY

Flitting tribute to an ally whose flag has flown side by side with the American flag at the battle fronts in Europe and whose men have fought and comrades with the United States forces in the cause of democracy, will be paid by the citizens of Oakland, in common with those of all parts of this country, to the British on "Britain Day," which will be observed here next Saturday. Arrangements for the event have been practically completed. On that occasion the British flag will fly throughout the city and exercises befitting the day will be held. M. W. Bidwell is the chairman of the day.

The exercises will begin at 1 p. m. Saturday with a concert on the city hall plaza by Hollywood band, which will play all of the British national airs. At 2 p. m. the parade will start from Eleventh and Franklin streets, led by Mayor John L. Davie in an automobile decorated with the British colors. Among the features of the parade will be:

Returned British soldiers in uniform, band of United States Infantry, led by a band from Fort Scott; naval battalion, headed by a band; Boy Scouts and Sons of St. George, accompanied by a band; citizens in automobiles, etc.

The soldiers and sailors will be entertained by the people of Oakland. The Athenian-Niles Club will give a special dinner to the British soldiers. A variety of exercises will be held at the Municipal Auditorium. J. R. Knowland will preside and there will be talks by Lieutenant J. S. Dagger of the British army and by Judge Jesse J. Dunn. There will be a dancing act by Miss Bessie, a band of jodadies and jazz, with dance in kits.

At the conclusion of the literary exercises a dance, with a band in attendance, will be given at the Auditorium.

THE STRUGGLE

The question now rose of Ned's quitting his job at the motor and engine works and devoting his whole time to the promoter, Larney, and his plans for floating the company. "Of course you must give up that horrid, messy position, Edgar," insisted Fay Summers. "Nobody will have anything to do with your conduct. Which is it?" Ned was too angry to be grammatical, and Fay, shallow as she was, perceived in his very carelessness of speech the fact that he was behind her. She wanted to keep this red-blooded young workman, only she didn't want him to be a workman externally.

"Why, Ned, how can you speak like that to me?" she retorted with an effective catch in her voice. There is hardly a man of any type who is not sympathetic to a catch in the voice of a woman. The harshness vanished from Ned's tone as he answered, "I'm sorry Fay, for being a brute. But you has got to be mutual. You must treat me like I treat you. It's made ridiculous, not even by you! Come, which of us is it to be? Sam or me?"

Fay followed up her advantage. "If I must choose," she said in a low tone, "why not you? If you loved me, which is not true, then you'd be caught up to that nasty machine shop. Which shall it be, the machine shop or—" "Rubbish!" broke in Ned. "My job fits in decently with my love, Fay. It's a part of my caring for you. I keep on with a lot of it, I'm not ashamed of. But it isn't decent for you to be encouraged to me and go galavanting around with that sinn' Sam! And you'll cut him out—or cut me out!"

Then Fay played her little trump card. "Oh, all right," she replied airily. "By the way, your promoter, Mr. Larney, was saying only the other day that he hoped that you'd stick on at the works—that you didn't know anything about putting the invention into the market and didn't have a free hand."

She could see the quick movement of Ned's eyes as her shot had reached its mark. "He said that, did he?" said Ned beneath his breath. "Wants me to keep out of the way, hey?" Fay nodded, watching her sweetheart shrewdly.

He said no more then, but to Fay's delight if not greatly to her surprise, Ned quit the shop a few days later and announced he had taken a desk in Larney's office and would give his whole time to exploiting the heater.

"And now," purred Fay, "you can go out more with me, Ned, and you'll get a car, won't you, and join the tennis club and dance at—"

"I didn't leave the shop to play around," he said grimly. "I'll do that when I've made my pile."

At which Fay lost her temper. "All right," she shrieked, stamping her foot. "Then you'll have back the engagement ring you never gave me! I won't be neglected any longer!"

BOYS FREE OF BLAME, RELEASED

Help! Thomas Myles Would Go This Lad Seeks Peace Table Seat

Thomas Myles of East Oakland, until three weeks ago of Los Angeles, "had been officially invited to attend the peace conference and to sit at the table with the allies as a member of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People."

Thomas Myles declares so and Myles being 12 years old, and colored, should know. The colored delegation, according to the apostle of his race, is leaving on December 10 for its important mission abroad, and that is why, with a single aside, he appealed to the government, the lad decided that an appeal to the public was imperative if his presence was not to be missed. This is the open letter which he penned:

"Help! The boys we released are innocent of any connection with the crime. They were carefully questioned by Inspectors Gannaw and Flynn, and given a verdict to the effect that they were unable to determine who fired the shot that cost Young his life."

The jury in the coroner's inquest over the body of Lee Young, shot on the night of December 1, at the home of C. A. Bergstrom, 2121 High Street, rendered a verdict to the effect that they were unable to determine who fired the shot that cost Young his life.

The police have released from custody August Madero, Anthony Edwards, Peter Cowell, James Cerelli and Americus Pasten, five of the boys arrested by Inspectors William Flynn and Gannaw at the lonely hut on the marshes last Sunday night. The boys were released following a complete statement by Tony Gomez that they were in no way implicated in the three burglaries for which the remaining three, Tony Gomez, Tony Cerelli and George Rodoguse, are being held. They will be charged with burglary.

Captain of Inspectors James L. Drury said:

"The boys we released are innocent of any connection with the crime. They were carefully questioned by Inspectors Gannaw and Flynn, and given a verdict to the effect that they were unable to determine who fired the shot that cost Young his life."
